Press Release

Rachiele introduces patent pending barrier free sink designs.

Rachiele has introduced the first barrier free “smart sink” featuring a right rear drain and a left front faucet location.

- Altamonte Springs, FL, January 5, 2007: The introduction of the “smart sink” offers the only sink on the market with full wheelchair access to the sink and faucet. The right rear drain moves the plumbing out of the way of the wheelchair access, while a front left faucet location offers ease of reach and use for any single handle faucet design.
- The patent pending design is available in copper, stainless, and a new textured stainless steel which hides scratches and water marks. The sink design features an apron front style which can wall hung, or integrated into cabinetry. Photos can be seen on their website: www.Rachiele.com
